First Board of Supervisors in County Was 1890

MORE HISTORY: Boyce, I didn't know what I was missing by overlooking Inventory of the County Archives of Illinois No. 82 Saline County, prepared by The Illinois Historical Records Survey, Division of Professional and Service Projects, Works Progress Administration (WPA), which has been on the bookshelf right above my desk since 1941.

For today's history lesson, taken from this book in the part called Roster of County Officers, where we got our material of a week ago, let us delve into the first county board of supervisors, because the county board meets this Thursday at the court house.

In 1874 the administration of the county business was lodged in a three-member board of county commissioners but in 1890 the board of supervisors came into existence. The board was formed by the several township supervisors, one elected from each township, and later assistant supervisors were given some of the larger townships.

For example, all of the 13 townships at present have one supervisor, but Harrisburg has five assistant supervisors. Eldorado has three and Carrier Mills has one assistant to bring the board membership to 22. But that first list shows one member from each township.

The ICA of Ill. No. 82 Saline Co. says about this first board:

"The electorate of Saline county adopted township organization at an election held Nov. 5, 1889, and Thomas H. Cain, William H. Pankey and Francis W. Pickett were appointed commissioners to divide the county into townships. On Jan. 20, 1890, these commissioners filed their report naming and bounding 13 townships. The first meeting of the board of supervisors was held Friday, May 2, 1890. The supervisors present and each township represented being as follows:

But before we go further with the list, we can say that in those early days Tate was known as Hall township, Carrier Mills as Douglas, Rector as Texas, and Mountain as Somerset townships.

Now with the list of those first members of the Saline County Board of Supervisors:

Harrisburg—J. W. Cain.
Carrier Mills—Hez Thompson.
Galatia—J. J. Scott.
Brushy—Benjamin Reynolds.
Tate—M. P. Cardwell.
Independence—W. G. McSparrin.
Rector—A. J. Hayes.
Eldorado—J. N. Elder.
Stonefort—Robert Lewis.
Long Branch—J. C. Upchurch.
Raleigh—Hez Bramlet.
Cottage—F. M. Borders.

First of Series Of Anti-Rabies Shots Saturday

The Harrisburg Humane society will hold the first of a series of anti-rabies shots from 1 to 3 p. m. at the Harrisburg city hall in the Street and Alley Division on Cherry street. The shots will be administered by Dr. W. H. Dean.

The date has been moved ahead a month earlier than in previous years due to request from owners who have not had their dogs inoculated. Any dog over six weeks old can be vaccinated, the price of which is $1.50. Only one vaccination a year is necessary. Contrary to the belief of many, the serum is not furnished by the state. Dr. C. E. Reeder and Dr. W. H. Dean report that there has not been a case of rabies in Saline county this year and the City of Harrisburg has not had a single case since the organization of the Harrisburg Humane society in 1948. It is believed that these mass vaccinations held several times during the year by the Harrisburg Humane society have done much to protect our community and dog owners are urged by the Harrisburg Humane society and the city police to take advantage of these inoculations.

Molotov Urged To Reconsider Austrian Stand

Independence
Without Strings
Asked for Nation

BERLIN (AP)—Austria and the West rejected Russia's terms for an Austrian treaty today and appealed to Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to give tiny country its independence without any strings attached.

Addressing the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl rejected the two demands Molotov had made as his treaty—signing price—that foreign occupation troops remain in Austria until a German peace treaty has been concluded and that Austria remain forever neutralized.

Figl appealed eloquently to the foreign ministers and to Molotov not to leave Berlin without agreeing to a treaty to restore his little country's independence.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, speaking for the Western foreign ministers, likewise rejected Molotov's terms. Despairing Plea

"I would ask Mr. Molotov if he can not now withdraw these new demands and obstacles, and accept the treaty which we are ready to sign," Eden said.

"The Austrian federal government has empowered me to declare with all solemnity that it can agree to no change in the present treaty draft," Figl said at a plenary Big Four meeting.

"Gentlemen, I appeal to you once more. Do not go away from this conference without giving Austria her state treaty and, thereby, her freedom."

Figl's plea was a despairing one. The conference ended Thursday, with no hope of agreement on German or Austrian treaties.

West to Issue Statement

It was learned that the Western foreign ministers plan to issue a historic "statement of principles" when the Big Four conference adjourns, pledging their determination to continue fighting for a just cold war settlement.

Informed Western sources said the declaration will restate the West's position that a cold war settlement must include:

1. German unification and a peace treaty based on completely free all-German elections.
2. Complete independence for Austria.
3. Recognition of the West's right to maintain its system of defensive alliances.

Enfield Man to Stand Trial March 22 On Murder Charge

CARMIL, Ill. (AP)—Raleigh Williams, Enfield, will stand trial March 22 for the murder of White County Deputy Sheriff Lowell Proctor, 62.

Circuit Judge Caswell J. Crebs denied a motion to quash the indictment against Williams, a 34-year-old oil field worker, Monday after a two-hour hearing.

Proctor was shot Dec. 26 and died two days later of stomach and chest wounds. He said he was shot as he approached Williams' car to arrest him after Williams took part in a drinking party.

Rev. Van Hoose Announces Candidacy
For Congress in Address Here

The Rev. Alfred Van Hoose, prominent southern Illinois radio minister whose residence is Cambria, today formally announced to people of this area his candidacy for Congress from the 25th district on the Republican ticket.

Rev. Van Hoose, who is now on a speaking tour of the district, brought his campaign into Harrisburg last night. He spoke at the court house, giving his idea on Social Security and Old Age assistance, blasting Communists in this country and justifying the mixture of religion in politics.

Regarding the latter point, Rev. Van Hoose pointed out that this nation was founded on the principle of freedom of religious belief and said that two signers of the Declaration of Independence were ministers.

Atty. O. P. Tuttle presided at the meeting.

Rev. Van Hoose is well-known in Harrisburg, having preached here on numerous occasions. He is appearing over Harrisburg, Marion, Du Quoin and Evansville radio stations and is on the Henderson, Ky., television station each Sunday.

He was born and reared in a small coal mining village near Herrin. Taken from school at 16, he went into the coal mines to help augment the family income. He later entered the ministry and earned his education by "burning the midnight oil."

Award Contracts For Bridge At Shawneetown

FRANKFORT, KY. (AP)—The Kentucky Highway Department today awarded contracts for a major new bridge across the Ohio River between Kentucky and Illinois.

The bridge will cross the river at a point near Shawneetown, Ill., and Union County, Ky. It will cost more than $4,000,000.

Traylor Bros., Evansville, Ind., received a $1,036,563 contract for the bridge substructure, and the Structural Steel Co., Chicago, received the superstructure contract for $2,693,864.

Contracts for approaches to the bridge, expected to cost another half million dollars, are expected to be awarded within the next few days.

Tolls will be charged on the bridge to retire revenue bonds which will be issued to finance the construction.

W. D. MacLeod, district highway engineer at Carbondale, confirmed that survey and plans are 95 per cent complete for the Illinois approach. The office is in process of acquiring rights-of-way for the approximately two-mile approach.

"Our plans are to have our work complete on the Illinois side when the bridge and Kentucky approach are completed. That tentatively is set for November 1955."

"Our work on the Illinois side probably will begin late this year or early 1955," MacLeod said.

He said he expects bids for the Illinois work will be advertised by the highway division in November 1954 or January 1955.

The approach will be built to be above the high water mark of the 1913 flood, MacLeod said. The Kentucky approach will be above the 1937 level but because of the expense and increased work the Illinois approach will be under the 1937 level. The bridge would be unapproachable at that level anyway, he said, because highways would be inundated.

Tornado Hits Gym, Injures 19 in Arkansas

Early Season Storm
Whips Through
Clarksville Area

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—An early season tornado skipped through this northwest Arkansas town "like a freight train whizzing by" Monday night, caving in the roof of a crowded college gymnasium and injuring 19 persons.

No one was killed and, although the 19 victims were treated at a hospital, only four persons were kept overnight.

The tornado hit during a heavy thunderstorm.

Most of the injured were attending a program of four intra-mural basketball games at the new gymnasium of the College of the Ozarks when the twister hit about 9 p. m. EST. The gym's roof was torn loose and "just caved in," reported Betty Ruth Morris, an employee of the Clarksville Herald Democrat.

Homes Damaged

State Police Lt. T. I. Bartlett said the tornado first swept through the West Hill residential district on the west side of Clarksville. The roofs of 15 homes were torn off, and one house was blown off its foundation. A garage and a grocery also suffered heavy damage.

The twister then skipped a mile and a half to the north side of town, where it blew away part of the roof and the south wall of the college gym.

Bartlett said there was no panic when the gymnasium was damaged, but the approximately 100 players and spectators were "just anxious to get out" of the building.

The Red Cross disaster chairman for Clarksville, Dr. Don Hamm, said there was no emergency housing problem because the persons whose homes were damaged doubled up with friends and neighbors.

Mrs. C. E. Combe Returns from
Visit to Germany

Mrs. Charles E. Combe returned recently from Germany where she had been visiting her nephew, Lt. Col. Thomas L. Ozment and family, since November.

Lt. Ozment, an ophthalmologist, is head of the eye, ear, nose, and throat department of the Fifth General Hospital in Stuttgart, Germany. He and his wife, the former Virginia Robertson, have two baby boys.

Mrs. Combe made the trip to Europe and back by plane which was much easier than changing trains in foreign countries. Because of the new Air France route she was able to fly from Chicago directly to Paris, France.

With Mrs. Ozment she made a 15-day holiday tour covering Spain, Portugal, Switzerland, England, France and Belgium. While traveling through Southern Germany she stopped at Gernish, a winter resort located at the foot of the Alps, and attended the Club Carioca, a very modern night club operated by the Army for the troops, where she was entertained by world famous skaters in an ice show. The highest types of recreation were available to the servicemen for a very low rate, she said. Certain nights were set aside for officers and nights for the enlisted men.

Mrs. Combe attended a Saturday matinee, and she stated that there were as many children in the audience as there were adults.

In Southern Germany, she said, where villages were quite old, the houses were very quaint, and it was very ordinary to see picturesque scenes painted on the fronts.

She pointed out that in order for a person to be permitted to operate a car he must first learn 70 rules for driving to secure his license. On the narrow winding streets, she added, carts drawn by oxen and horses, bicycles and hand-pushed carts had the same traffic privileges as the truck and automobile.

Mrs. Combe stated that the climate was quite cold and that the European people wore very heavy clothing instead of using a considerable amount of fuel.

Spurned Divorcee
Kills Herself After Shooting Boy Friend

CHICAGO (AP)—Robert Gourley, 26, who spurned a love-sick divorcee, was in serious condition today with a bullet wound inflicted when she fired point-blank at him after asking for one last kiss.

Mrs. Zora Simone, 30, then killed herself with shots in the chest and abdomen.

Gourley, a commercial artist, told police from his hospital bed he had attempted to break off a six-month romance with Mrs. Simone.

City authorities today were hoping that today's rains would bring enough water down Middle Fork creek to operate the small Congo pump.

The Congo pump can put about 500 gallons of water per minute into the reservoir when operating.

The rain, which started early today, measured 73 inch at 7 a. m. The 7 a. m. reading from the Galatia area, where Middle Fork gets much of its water, was .86 inch.

Take Advantage of State Parks, Miley Says in Address at Eldorado

Speaks at Anniversary
Meeting of Eldorado-
Raleigh Park District

"Illinois state parks offer you many opportunities — for pleasure, vacation and recreation. They belong to you. We urge you to take advantage of them."

Robert G. Miley of Galatia, superintendent of Illinois state parks and memorials, spoke those words last night at a dinner meeting celebrating the eighth anniversary of the Eldorado-Raleigh Park District.

Pleasure Park restaurant at Eldorado, where the district headquarters are located, was the scene of the celebration.

Present were board members and others who had contributed to the success of the park district, which contains Karel park in the Eldorado reservoir, Mahoney park in Eldorado and a park in Raleigh.

Tells of Park Program

Miley, who said the legislators of this district had been champions of parks in Illinois — especially in this district — gave a history of the state parks, told of the park program and revealed the progress being made.

Declaring that 10,000,000 persons visit state parks in Illinois each year, he said park acreage had increased from 5,000 acres in 1932 to 25,000 in 1953.

Miley told of improvements at Giant City state park south of Carbondale, of the $200,000 appropriation during the present administration for improvements at Dixon Springs, and of work that had been done at Cave-in-Rock state park and Ferne Clyffe state park near Goreville.

Show Colored Films

At Dixon Springs, he said, a water purification plant is being constructed, that there will be new water lines, a 50,000 gallon storage tank, a swimming pool and bath house and sewage disposal facilities.

He said that Starved Rock park, between Ottawa and LaSalle, is the most popular state park, with Pere Marquette park at Grafton a close second.

Following Miley's address Bill Bushell, of the education division of the Department of Conservation, showed a colored film entitled "Illinois, Land of Lincoln."

Presiding at the meeting was County Judge Ralph W. Chesser, who introduced a number of those present including State Representatives Paul Powell, Gordon Kerr and W. O. Verhines.

The meeting was opened with the invocation by State's Attorney Glen O. Jones, after which Judge Chesser told about the formation of the Eldorado-Raleigh park district.

Mrs. Mahoney Honored Guest

Park board members are LaVern Buntin, president, J. Ward Barnes, treasurer, Jessie Evans, secretary, Ernie Webster, John D. Upchurch, Fred Dodd and Richard Carpenter. Mrs. Evans was in charge of the arrangements for the dinner and received high compliments for the planning.

Mrs. Thomas Mahoney, widow of the donor of Mahoney park, was an honored guest. Kenneth Smith, superintendent of the Eldorado Water Co., spoke in behalf of the water company president, C. J. Karel, who donated the land for Karel park on the reservoir.

The three representatives all spoke, and all said that politics should be left out and all unite when something came up that would be for the good of the district.

Also speaking were William Alford Smith of Galatia, chairman of the Saline County Board of Supervisors, Ernie Webster, and Bruce Burnett.

Newcomers Nominated for Film Awards;
No Past Oscar Winner Among 20 Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Newcomers took over the 26th Academy Awards race today with not one past Oscar winner among the 20 stars nominated for the best acting honors.

Two competitors for the best actress award, Audrey Hepburn and Maggie McNamara, even shared coveted nominations for their first Hollywood films.

The slender Miss Hepburn, who was said to be putting the Marilyn Monroe shape out of style, was named for her role as a princess in the comedy "Roman Holiday."

Miss McNamara, another unbuttoned actress, won her nomination for a film that touched off a censor's row, "The Moon Is Blue."

Another new star, French ballerina Leslie Caron, got on the nominee's list for the musical "Lili." Ava Gardner, usually mentioned as a glamour queen but not as an actress, also won her first nomination for "Mogambo."

The only veteran in the lot was Britain's Deborah Kerr, who played a man-hungry, army wife in "From Here to Eternity." She was nominated in 1949 for an Oscar but lost.

Former High School Latin Teacher Leaves Estate of $631,966

CHICAGO (AP)—A former high school Latin teacher, whose shrewd investments earned her nearly $600,000, left an estate valued at $631,966, court records showed today.

She was Miss Grace E. Jackson, 85, who died Jan. 27.

Her attorneys said Miss Jackson began her financial career with $50,000 she inherited from her father, Kirby Jackson, a Fort Wayne, Ind., railroad engineer who lived to be 100.

Among the bequests was a $143,886 grant to Wellesley Mass. College to establish a scholarship fund.

Farm Reaction
Varies on Benson
Action on Butter

CHICAGO (AP)—Farm belt reaction to the lowering of butter price supports varied today among a sharp criticism, half-hearted approval and full agreement.

Iowa's Democratic Party Chairman Jake Moore leveled the most stinging blows at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, calling his action "an absolute reversal of the Eisenhower promises during the last campaign and strong evidence that farmers are going to be the first to feel the effects of the recession."

Lyman McKee, president of the Wisconsin American Dairy Assn., said the cut was "a little lower than some of us had anticipated."

"It means that the dairy farmer is going to have to accept individual responsibility for building sales rather than loading it onto the government," McKee said.

Hits Sharp Cut

Frank Stone, general manager of a large Midwest dairy cooperative said President Eisenhower "promised a gradual reduction—5 per cent a year—instead of a sharp cut in price supports."

"It seems to the dairy farmers that Benson should, therefore, lean toward the President's suggestion," Stone said.

The American Buttermilk Institute said the reduction was a "step in the right direction" but thought the government should provide for their reduction of prices by liquidating its huge butter stocks to the American consumer.

Sees Drop in Production

Curtis Hatch, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation said "The slash had to come sometime and maybe this year is as good a time as any."

Hatch said the cuts would undoubtedly have an effect on farmers "but the effect will be temporary."

"I feel that the dairy farmers will accept this without protest," he said.

The National Milk Producers Federation predicted the lower supports would drop milk producers "back into depression year prices and cost them an estimated one billion dollars in income."

Following Pearson's address, the meeting will consist of a workshop with various topics discussed by the teachers. Among these will be teachers' welfare, teachers' pensions, and the raising of educational standards. Leading these discussions will be J. Lester Buford, Mt. Vernon superintendent of schools; Otis Jeeler, assistant superintendent of public instruction, and Aubrey Holmes, executive secretary of the Teacher Retirement system.

The Saline County Teachers' association will hold its business meeting following the program, and officers for 1954 will be elected.

Supporting Roles

Broadway actress Geraldine Page was awarded a supporting actress nomination for her first film job, "Hondo." Others up for that prize were Grace Kelly, "Mogambo"; Marjorie Rambeau, "Torch Song"; Donna Reed, "From Here to Eternity"; and Thelma Ritter, "Pickup on South Street."

Best supporting actors — any of whom could win his first Oscar — were Eddie Albert, "Roman Holiday"; Brandon De Wilde, "Shane"; Jack Palance, "Shane"; Frank Sinatra, "From Here to Eternity"; and Robert Strauss, "Stalag 17."

Nominated for the best picture of the year were "From Here to Eternity," "Julius Caesar," "The Robe," "Roman Holiday," and "Shane."

THE STORY: Grete Marratt, a fugitive, has just discovered that Clem Ryerson, owner of the Wineglass ranch, is a man he has sworn to kill. He knows, too, that Naome, a girl he had rescued on one occasion, is Ryerson's daughter. Marratt is hiding under the assumed identity of Luke Usher, a man he resembles who disappeared 15 years ago after accusing Ryerson of murdering Jake Usher, father of Luke. Although Marratt suspects, he does not have proof that the Wineglass stole all of the Usher cattle and sold them to the Indian agency. Churk Craffin, Wineglass foreman, has sent Tularosa, a half-breed, in to find the canceled checks he received for the stolen cattle. These checks were taken from the Indian agency by Naome.

XV
Thirty years of patching bones and stitching hides for the folks who ranched the Bella Loma country had given Doc Frailey a considerable insight into the foibles and follies of a matured humanity. He remembered Luke well as a gawky lad of 16, loud of mouth, always complaining and given to violent rages when things didn't go the way his mind was bent on having them. Half Circle U had been the most prosperous spread at this end of the cañons and Luke had been determined folks should keep that fact well in mind.

And, mostly, they had while in Luke Usher's presence; because, in addition to his irascible temper, he was known far and wide as a red striped whizzer when it came to putting a belt gun in action. Frailey could not blame the girl for crying out or the frantic way she'd flung herself, arms spread, between Luke and her father. Ryerson's own cheeks were gray but his eyes never wavered. He said, "Keep out of this, Naome," and put her gently aside. "If you've come back," he told Luke, "to wind up any unfinished business, don't let a child's hysteria stand in your way."

Frailey's jaws ached with strain. He could see and he could hear but he was powerless to move. The words he would have spoken were all piled up and clogged in his throat. He was like a man in the path of a rampaging cyclone, immobilized by his grasp of impending disaster. For the space of 10 heartbeats there was no sound whatever. Then, immeasurably, so slightly as only to be sensed rather than seen, the frozen stillness of Usher's stance became again imbued with breathing. The killer loomed leached out of his stare and he stepped back half a pace to say with bitter clarity: "Next time your tracks cross mine have a gun on you."

He swung round on his heel and stepped off the porch. It was late, close to one, when Tularosa reached town. The only lights still showing came with a lemon effulgence through the dust-grimed windows of the Red Horse Bar. He didn't care about that; light, at this stage, not being essential to his purpose. He kicked the horse into movement that seemed slow as a snail's pace. The Buffalo Bull, Churk Craffin had said. First room off the right of the second floor hall. He found the place finally drenched with sweat. He got out of the saddle and pulled the horse around back where he tied it in the gloom of an ancient pepper tree. Then he retraced his steps to the front and went in. Churk had said,

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Molotov Ignores Dulles Pleas Re Indo-China; Air Force Opposed Sending Mechanics Into Indo-China.

WASHINGTON. — The crucial battle to save Indo-China is being waged on two diplomatic fronts in addition to the jungles of Laos. Front No. 1 is Berlin where John Foster Dulles has had two talks with Foreign Minister Molotov in an effort to get him to call off the Indo-China rebels. All Dulles has got so far is a Slavic shoulder shrug. And undoubtedly that's all he will get; for the Kremlin is encouraging the Indo-China war at this particular time as pressure on the discouraged French to stay out of the United European Army. If the French stay out, they can get peace in Indo-China — though how long that peace will last is problematical.

In Berlin also, French Foreign Minister Bidault has given Dulles a blunt warning that the French Chamber of Deputies is almost sure to vote an end of the war within the next three months. Dulles has relayed this warning to the White House, in fact cabled Eisenhower a half-dozen times last week urging that every aid possible be rushed to Indo-China.

Front No. 2 is in Washington where there's division of opinion regarding American aid to the French. AIR FORCE OPPOSES Most vigorous supporter of aid to France is dynamic Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who has leaned toward sending American troops; also wants to blockade the China coast; is also the man to put through the sending of American mechanics to repair American planes.

General Nathan Twining, chief of staff for the Air Force, was opposed to sending these mechanics, but was overruled by Radford and Eisenhower.

The group inside the Pentagon which supports Radford has worked out a plan to send four divisions of U. S. troops to Indo-China, along with American artillery, tanks and jet fighters.

But the opposite faction points out the minute American fighting men show up in the Indo-Chinese jungles, Chinese Communists are certain to intervene — as they did in Korea, and all-out war would explode.

Meanwhile, the Joint Chiefs of Staff have urgently warned the President that Indo-China must be saved from the Communists or all of southeast Asia, including rice, rubber, tin, will eventually fall under the Kremlin's wing. The President has ordered an emergency re-evaluation study chiefly to see whether the gloomy warning should be as gloomy as indicated. Actually the present atmosphere is one of frustration.

Daugherty states that his sermon subject will be "Faith in Christ" as he continues to develop the general theme for the Sunday night services, "Christ's Answer to your Problem."

DEPARTMENT OF PEACE
Busy-bee Congressman Harley Staggers of West Virginia, as usual, will have a lot of legislative iron in the fire this session. But the bill he is proudest of would create a department of peace.

The West Virginia Democrat got the idea from R. M. Davis, Morgantown, W. Va., coal miner, who has been urging a department of peace for years. Frank Gannett, publisher of the Gannett newspapers, is also vigorous advocate of this cause. And Staggers buttholes one and all on the subject, from Capitol page boys up the President of the United States. He's convinced that some of his enthusiasm rubbed off on Ike during a White House chat the other day.

"Mr. President, maybe we would Washington's Famous Spade to Break Ground for Marine Corps Memorial

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The most famous spade in the world is going to take another dig at the good earth this Friday.

It will do most of the work at ground-breaking ceremonies for the Marine Corps National Memorial. Eventually over the spill of earth will be erected a 100-ton bronze statue of the flag raising on Iwo Jima. The memorial will be on a half-acre plot rimming the northern end of Arlington National Cemetery.

The spade of which I speak is not of the garden variety, it's polished, wears ribbons the color of the flag, and never has to work up more than a spade on a single job. It is the property of National Capital Parks, and has been for a long time.

Many a wheel has taken the old spade in hand on many a momentous occasion. Metal markers are attached to the handle, something like the notches the hard-bitten characters of the old West nicked for their six guns.

Used For Lincoln Memorial
The most important marker, perhaps, tells that on Feb. 12, 1914, the spade was used to break sod

Clergyman Uses Pious Church Talk To Pass Bad Checks

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Alexander G. Patterson, identified as a Baptist clergyman, said today he often used pious church shop talk to put his victims off guard while cashing $80,000 worth of bogus checks.

Patterson, 57, said many of his bad checks were passed while buying Bibles or religious books. He was arrested Monday by Wheaton police on an FBI request as he attempted to cash a $75 check in a book store.

Patterson said he had operated in Cincinnati, Kansas City, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and many other cities.

Patterson admitted cashing about 150 bad checks since July, 1953, authorities said.

Officers said his favorite victims were religious bookstores and church supply houses where he could gain the confidence of clerks by chatting about his own church background.

The FBI said he had a police record dating back to before World War I, including a charge of desertion from the Army in 1916 and of impersonating a lieutenant colonel.

Jimmy Charges Stolen Papers Used in Court

PASADENA, Calif. (CP) — James and Romelle Roosevelt square off again today in Superior Court in their bitter alimony battle in which he charged that she broke into his office and stole documents to use against him.

Roosevelt blurted his charge from the stand Monday when he was confronted with evidence that he set up a $2,500 trust fund last summer for Irene Owens, a woman named as one of three co-respondents in Mrs. Roosevelt's pending suit for separate maintenance.

The hearing on Mrs. Roosevelt's request for $3,500 a month temporary support for herself and the three Roosevelt children was scheduled to resume this afternoon.

On the third of August she (Mrs. Roosevelt) made a visit to my office building, Roosevelt testified Monday.

"She did not have a key to my office. She was let in by the janitor. She had no key to the files so she broke into my files and there have been since missing a great many documents from those files, including one that was produced here in court," he said.

Roosevelt, balding, eldest son of the late president, referred to a document dramatically presented by Arthur Schiffman, Mrs. Roosevelt's attorney.

The paper describing the trust fund for Miss Owens was torn to shreds and pieced together and enclosed in plastic. It was dated Aug. 19 and read:

"I am holding in trust in the name of Irene Owens in my trust account number 20202 in the Seventh and Olive Streets branch of the Bank of America the sum of $2,500. I shall pay all or any portion of the amount to Irene Owens on demand."

It was signed by Attorney John K. Sloan.

Roosevelt testified under questioning by Schiffman that the purpose of the trust fund was for me, and Mr. Sloan has since returned it to me."

Roosevelt, 47, made his theft charge against his wife under direct examination by his lawyer, Samuel B. Picone, who produced a sign-in sheet for Roosevelt's office building. Roosevelt identified his wife's signature.

Marine Board Opens Inquiry On Confessions

WASHINGTON (CP) — A Marine court of inquiry today began the first formal investigation of germ war "confessions" by an American captured by the Communists in Korea.

The case of Marine Col. Frank H. Schwable, who broke under Red torture and later repudiated his germ "confession" after repatriation, is expected to set historic precedents in military justice.

The court of three Marine generals and an admiral was under instruction by Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine commandant, to give "due consideration of the mental and psychological condition" of Schwable and to any physical torture inflicted on him by the Reds.

As its first act, the court decided to have open sessions at all times except when secret information was being presented.

Wife at Hearing
Among spectators was Schwable's wife who busied herself with embroidery work while she listened to the proceedings.

Lt. Col. Kenneth E. Murphy, counsel for the court, intended to present directives and orders bearing on the issue, several former war prisoners who may have seen Schwable in prison camps, and expert testimony on psychological aspects of the case.

The first witnesses were Maj. Robert B. Laing of Marine Corps Intelligence, who introduced two maps of the Korean area, and Paul R. Rugen, civilian archivist for the Marine Corps who introduced the historical diary of the 1st Marine Air Wing to which Schwable was attached.

Then the press and public were excluded while the court examined classified documents covering the 1st Marine Air Wing's mission in the Korean fighting.

Schwable, who lives in Arlington, Va., with his wife and two children, aged 16 and 7, was chief of staff of the First Marine Air Wing in Korea when he was shot down on July 8, 1952, to become the highest ranking Marine captured.

Mind Became Dull
He was kept in solitary confinement, he said, until he was released last Sept. 6, the only exceptions being when he was moved from camp to camp. An officer with an illustrious World War II record for which he was awarded four Distinguished Flying Crosses and 10 Air Medals, Schwable said he "deteriorated physically and became dull of mind" under Red torture. Finally he signed a 6,000-word "confession."

It was either that or never come out alive, he said, and he thought it would be better to expose the "slandering" Red propaganda than to give up his life.

Shepherd told the court not only to make formal findings of fact, but to recommend "disciplinary action as may be appropriate." That could range from none at all to court martial charges.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Regular season cage play winds up this week end for many of the smaller IHSA school throughout the area, and district tournament time is all but here. One of the week's top encounters will be Galatia's affair with invading Brookport. The outcome will decide the Greater Egyptian conference race. Galatia, a contender for the loop title last year, was nosed out of the honors by Shawneetown late in the season.

This year, Galatia has once again led the pack. Until last Friday evening, the Bearcats were unbeaten in conference play. Then Tim O'Brien's Pope Co. Pirates handed the Saline county club its first setback, leaving the Bearcats tied with Brookport for the circuit's leadership. Both Galatia and Brookport have won 10, lost one in IFC play. Galatia's overall season record is 17 and six to date. The Bearcats have lost three of their last four games. Following the title-deciding tiff Friday evening, the Bearcats will close their regular season Saturday night against Karnak at home.

Harrisburg's Bull Dogs, Carrier Mills and Eldorado still have another week of regular season cage activity. Coach Lawrence Caluett's young team will play four more games—two of them South Seven conference struggles. Both of these will be on foreign courts. The Bull Dogs, who only last year won their first South Seven title, have not posted a conference victory all season long. . . and will really have to hustle to get one before the curtain falls on the 1953-54 hardwood show. Friday night the Bull Dogs are at Herrin and a week from Friday at West Frankfort. This coming Saturday night, Harrisburg will tangle with Charleston in the last home game of the year. One week from Saturday, the locals will invade Johnston City for their last tilt before the regional tourney.

Carrier Mills, boasting the best record of any Saline county team, has four more games. Tonight the Wildcats entertain Rosiclare, and Friday evening they visit Morris City. Next Tuesday the Wildcats are at Eldorado and then wind up their season at Cave-in-Rock on Friday, Feb. 26. The Wildcats have lost only to Mt. Vernon and West Frankfort this season.

Eldorado plays Ridgway at home tonight then travels to McLeansboro Friday evening. After their scrap next Tuesday with Carrier Mills, the Eagles will close their regular season at Metropolis on Friday.

Thompsonville came into its second straight Little Egyptian conference title last Thursday night after it appeared Royalton would make a fight-to-the-finish for the honors. And the way the title came must have tickled the Tigers no end. Thompsonville had been riding the crest of the circuit until Jan. 28 when Royalton threw a wrench in to the works, edging the Tigers in an overtime. This left the conference race wide open between the two schools with Royalton, despite two previous conference losses, still a mathematical contender for the title.

What stung the Tigers worst about this conference loss was the fact they had bowed to the Royalton crew in two tournaments this season. In both, Thompsonville was the defending champ, and Royalton succeeded in going on to annex the title. Gloom settled somewhat on the Tiger crew when it now appeared the upstart Royalton cagers might steal the conference show too.

But alas, fate in the form of Crab Orchard and Blufford, intervened last week. Crab Orchard landed a "body blow" to the Royalton hopes Tuesday night by posting a 61-59 upset. This limited Royalton to at best a tie for the title. But lo, along comes Blufford Thursday night and whops the Royalton quintet with the kayo punch, beating them 69-67 in a double overtime thriller. And now, Coach Bob Munday and his Thompsonville boys are celebrating their second straight Little Egyptian conference crown with a 11-1 record.

The Tigers, with two more conference games to play this week, could lose both and still finish ahead of deflated Royalton. It's a rough life, this basketball!

Indiana Regains First Place in Big Ten as Iowa Loses to Ohio State, 77-69

NEW YORK — National champion Indiana was boosted back in to a one-game lead in the torrid Big Ten basketball race today because its chief rival, Iowa, had the hard luck to run into a foe burning to win a "big one" for its coach.

Ohio State, a nine-times-beaten team rising to new heights in response to rumors that Coach Floyd Stuhl might quit, upset highly-favored Iowa, 77-69, at Columbus, Ohio, Monday night and then joyfully carried Stahl off the court on its shoulders.

The defeat knocked Iowa out of its first-place tie in the Big Ten as Indiana got back on the winning trail with an impressive 86-50 victory over Purdue.

Duquesne, Kentucky Win

Indiana and Iowa are rushing toward a showdown meeting next Monday at Bloomington, Ind., that could very well decide the league race.

Duquesne and Kentucky, the only major unbeaten teams in the nation and also ranked 1-2 nationally, kept their perfect records intact with easy victories Monday night. At Pittsburgh, Duquesne strung its mark out to 20-0, a new record for the school, by whipping Wayne University, 87-56, in a game marked by 50 personal fouls. At Lexington, Ky., Kentucky romped to an 81-49 win over Mississippi State to push its mark to 19-0.

Two of the nation's top independent teams scored easy victories, sixth-ranked Holy Cross winning 77-61.

Dr. Wells Reports Health Progress In Rotary Address

Dr. James Wells, head of the Egyptian Health department, addressed the Rotary club at its weekly dinner meeting last night, speaking on the forward strides in setting up the community health program during the past year.

Dr. Wells was introduced by Henry Winkelman.

The speaker emphasized that the health program in Saline, Gallatin and White counties—all three under the direction of the Egyptian Health department—was definitely out of its infancy and in a growing stage.

Four public health nurses are now employed by the department, and the activities of the unit are broadening monthly. Inspection of schools in the three counties, routine checks on water and milk, restaurant inspections and the immunization program in the schools were only a few of the department's duties, outlined by Dr. Wells.

Correction of numerous minor unsanitary situations were cited by the speaker as part of the department's accomplishments. New problems are to be undertaken. Dr. Wells specifically mentioned the problems of rabid dogs as a growing menace in our country. He mentioned the action now being taken by major cities and foresees the need of similar steps in this area, purely as a safeguard.

Illinois Air Force Pilot Killed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—First Lt. Bruce S. Connor, Chicago, was killed near Galt, 30 miles south of here, Monday when his T51 Mustang crashed in an open field.

J. H. Finley, Elk Grove, and J. Pellandini, Galt, said they saw the pilot bail out of the ship at about 400 to 500 feet above the ground. They said the parachute did not open fully and he plummeted to the ground.

Connor was a member of the 4750th Training Wing at Yuma, Ariz., Air Force Base.

Six 'Second String' Communists Are Found Guilty

DETROIT (AP)—Six "second string" Communists were found guilty in Federal Court today of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

A jury of five men and seven women deliberated seven hours before reaching a verdict.

The defendants, five men and one woman, asked for a poll of the jury after foreman Harold Osler of Ann Arbor announced the verdict. Each juror answered with a solemn "yes" when asked if they agreed with the verdict.

Only a handful of spectators was in the courtroom of Federal Judge Frank A. Picard when the jury returned. The defendants rose when the judge asked "have you reached a verdict?"

The Michigan Communist leader took the verdict calmly. Their attorney, Ernest Goodman, had indicated earlier they will carry an appeal to the Supreme Court.

One of those convicted was Mrs. Helen Winter, wife of Carl Winter, one of the 11 top Communists convicted in New York in the first Smith Act trial in 1949. Their conviction was upheld by the high court.

Judge Picard immediately cancelled the $5,000 bond for all but Mrs. Winter and set sentencing for 9 a. m. Friday. The maximum penalty is five years.

Convicted with Mrs. Winter were Saul Wellman, state Communist leader, Nat Ganley, former editor of the Michigan edition of the Daily Worker; William Allan, worker correspondent; Philip Schatz and Thomas De Witt Jr.

Marilyn Monroe Given Rousing Cheers in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Marilyn Monroe arrived in Korea to entertain troops today, and received the heaviest press coverage since President Eisenhower visited the war front in 1952.

Some 15 reporters and photographers accompanied the curvaceous platinum blonde beauty as she started the tour. She will perform in eight shows in four days.

Nearly 600 American soldiers whooped and hollered at Seoul City Airport when the film star walked down the ramp from the transport plane which brought her here from Japan.

A cordon of air police kept wolf-whistling soldiers at a distance while Miss Monroe sauntered through a cleared corridor to a waiting helicopter.

She wore long pants and an olive drab woolen army shirt when she posed briefly for amateur and professional photographers.

Seven helicopters flew Marilyn and her party from the air base to the First Marine Division, where she started the series of shows which will include appearances before every American infantry division and a big air base in Korea.

There are 88 general hospitals in the state of Washington.

Civic, Religious Leaders Ask Reduction in Sentence for Du Quoin Slot Operator

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A baker's dozen civic, religious and business figures today stood behind the motion for reduction of sentence by Brea Greer, slot machine operator and convicted tax evader.

One of the pleaders for a reduced sentence was the Perry county judge, who said he thought the three-year term given Greer, was "much too harsh and severe."

Attorneys for Greer filed the motion Monday in federal court. Greer, called "the biggest slot machine operator southern Illinois ever had" by a tax agent, was sentenced to three years and fined $10,000 for income tax evasion for 1946.

In imposing the sentence Jan. 5, Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie said: "I can't condone the operation of slot machines."

But the first affidavit in Greer's petition for reduced sentence was signed by Perry County Judge Judson E. Harriss, who said:

"Eventually he (Greer) branched out into the use of machines which for a long period of time were generally condoned but which later brought about much confusion in the conduct of his own business affairs without any deliberate design on his own part to violate the law."

He has always complied readily with the orders of officers of our county.

"I sincerely hope that the sentence heretofore imposed upon Mr. Greer may be lessened greatly," Harriss said, "as I feel that to Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you! Makes all riding and handling easier!

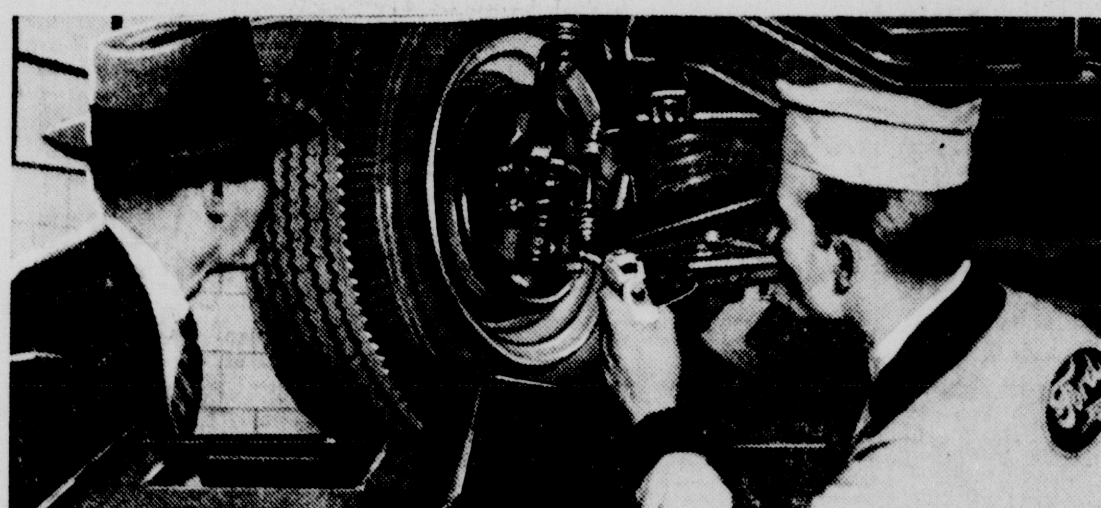

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints in Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

The "old" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too, not only on turns but on the straightaways as well. That's because conventional kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal this modern ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is yours in a '54 Ford. Whether you choose Ford's new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or 115-h.p. I-block Six you get the quick response and smooth, quiet operation of a modern overhead-valve, low-friction, deep-block engine. And no matter which of Ford's 28 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines... sparkling new colors... and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 16 points of wear found in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms not only reduce the number of wear points but also insulate chassis from road noises.

We cordially invite you to Test Drive a '54 Ford
